

AMENDMENTS TO CONSTITUTION – EXCEPTIONS TO STANDING ORDERS – PROCUREMENT

Executive Summary

The exceptions to the procurement / contract standing order provisions are set out in Part 5, Section 6, Clause 12 of the Constitution. These include at part (ii) 'Where the executive so directs'. It is understood that the clause had been included with the Exceptions clause to enable the Executive to make a decision that would not comply with all of the contract Standing Orders in such circumstances where the Executive determines that it would not be practical and also based on an officer recommendation.

To align with best practice it is recommended that the clause be deleted as it facilitates a provision for the Executive to over-ride a procurement decision. Accordingly, a proposed amended version of clause 12 is attached showing that item (ii) is deleted with the remaining items underneath renumbered.

The proposal was considered at the meeting of the Corporate Governance Working Group held on 20 February 2024. An extract from the minutes of the meeting is set out below, with the recommendations from the Working Group beneath:

“4. Exceptions to Standing Orders – Procurement

The Group received a draft report to the Standards and Audit Committee to be received at its meeting on 29 February 2024. The report contained a proposal to amend the procurement / contract standing order provisions in the Constitution by removing the provision for the Executive to over-ride a decision on procurement, in line with best practice. An amended clause 12 under Section 6 of Part 5 was attached as an appendix to the report, showing the wording to be deleted under part (ii) as 'Where the Executive so directs'. Members welcomed the proposal and noted that it would strengthen governance and remove exceptions in Standing Orders. The Group recommended the proposal to the Standards and Audit Committee.”

Recommendations
